1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The reasons for allowance of the claims is that none of the prior art of record disclose or suggest (I) a method of producing capsular polysaccharide from a pneumococcus by maintaining the pneumococcus in a growth medium wherein the improvement comprises maintaining a gas having a sub-atmospheric concentration of oxygen in contact with the growth medium; (II) a method of producing capsular polysaccharide from a pneumococcus by maintaining the pneumococcus in a growth medium wherein the improvement comprises maintaining a gas having a super-atmospheric concentration of carbon dioxide in contact with the growth medium; (III) a method of making an immunogenic preparation for administration to an animal at risk for developing a pneumococcal infection comprising maintaining pneumococcal cells in a growth medium having an oxygen content lower than the same medium equilibrated at the same temperature with normal air, and isolating capsular polysaccharide produced by the cells whereby the isolated polysaccharide constitutes the immunogenic preparation; (IV) a method of producing capsular polysaccharide from a pneumococcus by maintaining the pneumococcus in a growth medium wherein the improvement comprises maintaining the carbon dioxide concentration of the growth medium at least equal to the concentration of carbon dioxide in the same growth medium equilibrated at the same temperature with a gas comprising 5% carbon dioxide; (V) a method of producing pneumococcal polysaccharide comprising maintaining pneumococcal cells in a growth medium having an oxygen content lower than the same medium equilibrated at the same temperature with normal air; nor (VI) a method of assessing whether a test compound is useful for alleviating a pneumococcal infection in an animal comprising comparing the degree of phosphorylation of CpsD in pneumococcal cells maintained in the presence of the test compound and the degree of phosphorylation of CpsD in the same type of cells maintained in the absence of the test compound, wherein if the degree of phosphorylation of CpsD in the cells maintained in the presence of the test compound is less than the degree of phosphorylation of CpsD in the cells maintained in the absence of the test compound, then the test compound is useful for alleviating the infection as claimed in the present invention.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154 (b)
(application filed on or after May 29, 2000)

The patent term adjustment to date is 289 days. If the issue fee is paid on the date that is three months after the mailing date of this notice and the patent issues on the Tuesday before the date that is 28 weeks (six and a half months) after the mailing date of this notice, the term adjustment will be 289 days.

If a continued prosecution application (CPA) was filed in the above-identified application, the filing date that determines patent term adjustment is the filing date of the most recent CPA.

DATE MAILED: 04/22/2003

Notice of Fee Increase on January 1, 2003

If a reply to a "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" is filed in the Office on or after January 1, 2003, then the amount due will be higher than that set forth in the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" since there will be an increase in fees effective on January 1, 2003. See Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees for Fiscal Year 2003; Final Rule, 67 Fed. Reg. 70847, 70849 (November 27, 2002).

The current fee schedule is accessible from: <http://www.uspto.gov/main/howtofees.htm>.

If the issue fee paid is the amount shown on the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due," but not the correct amount in view of the fee increase, a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee" will be mailed to applicant. In order to avoid processing delays associated with mailing of a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee," if the response to the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) due form is to be filed on or after January 1, 2003 (or mailed with a certificate of mailing on or after January 1, 2003), the issue fee paid should be the fee that is required at the time the fee is paid. If the issue fee was previously paid, and the response to the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" includes a request to apply a previously-paid issue fee to the issue fee now due, then the difference between the issue fee amount at the time the response is filed and the previously paid issue fee should be paid. See Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, Section 1308.01 (Eighth Edition, August 2001).

Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at (703) 305-8283.
